“THE RACE IS TO THE SWIFTEST.”

Could not we have run just a little bit faster? Could not we have made just one grade point higher? We would answer yes to all of these questions. But, at the time when we were tested, we were at the limit of our mental and physical endurance. Were we failures? If we tried our hardest we were winners. If we did not try our hardest we were losers. In the future, we can only try our hardest to succeed in any endeavor. If we have desire and determination we can win.

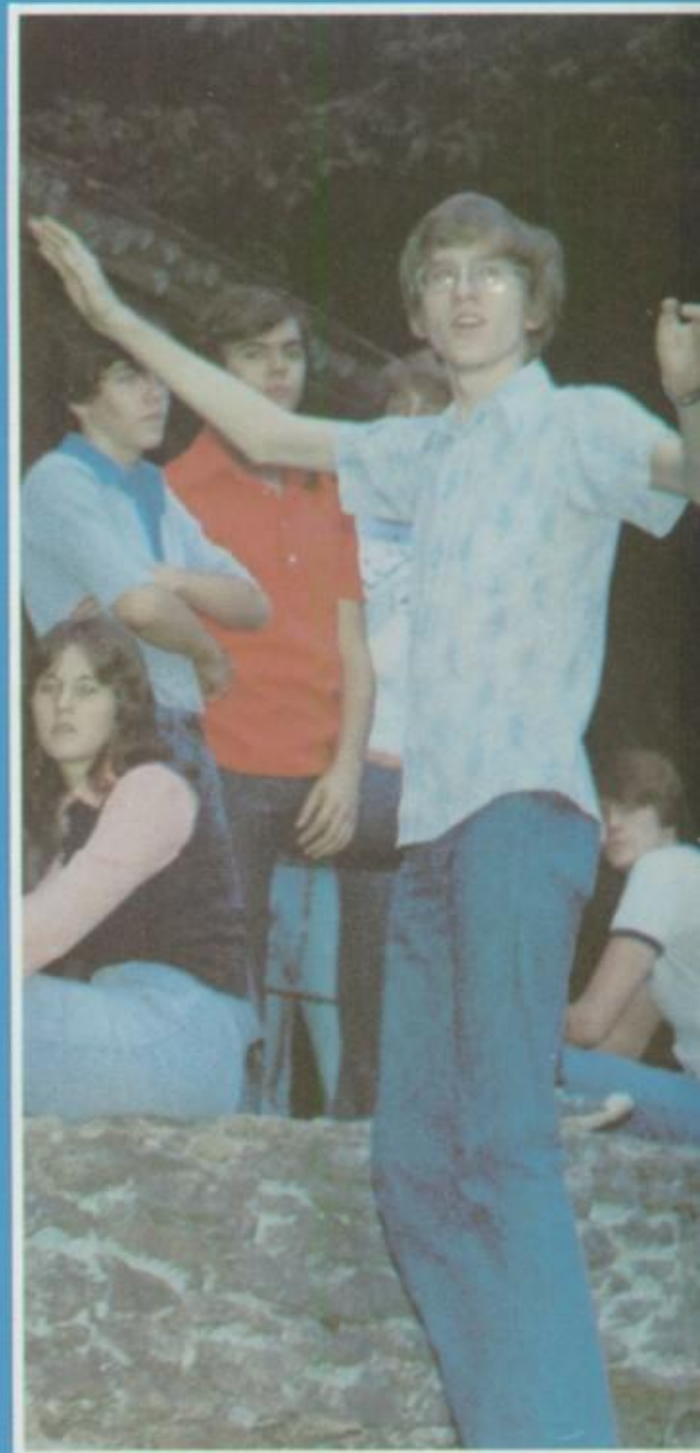

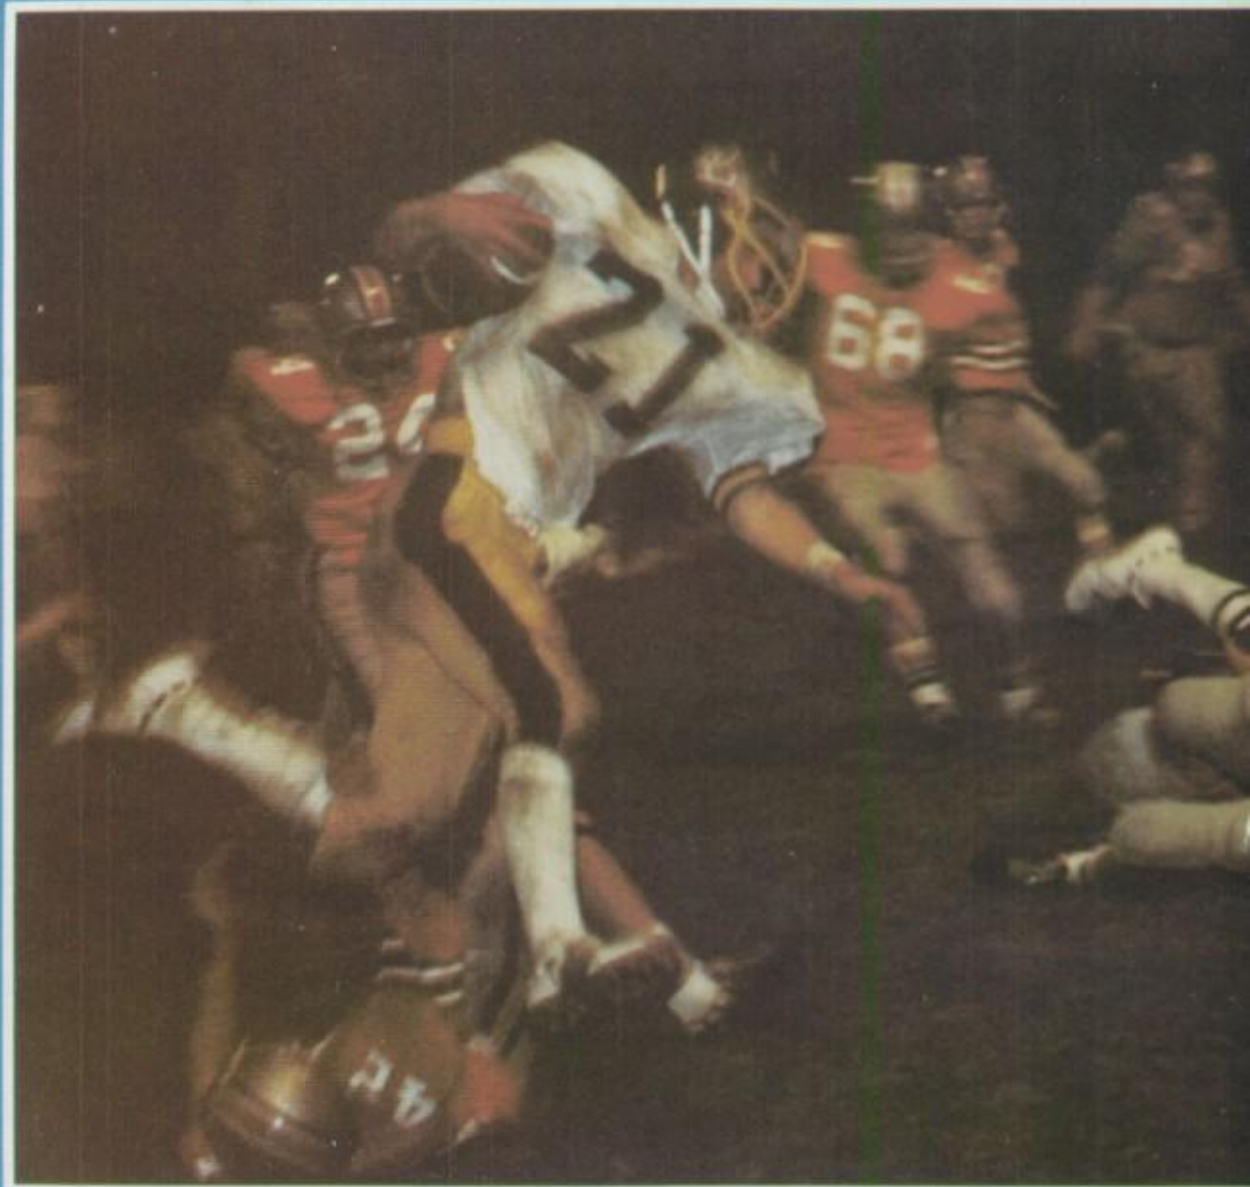

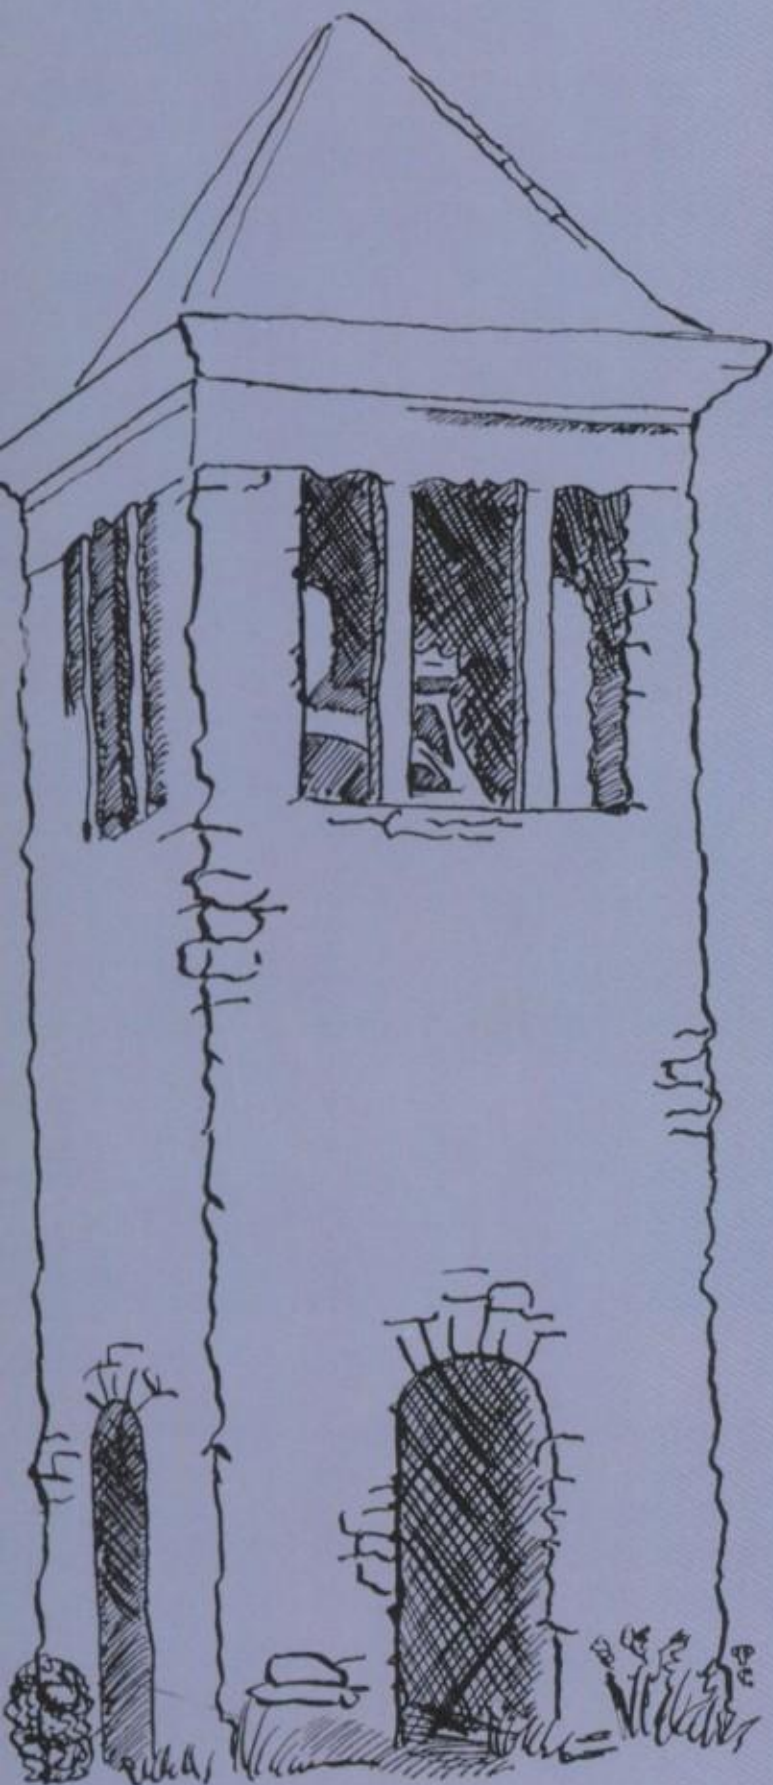

In Lipscomb students, there is always a feeling of youthful exuberance. The support given to the athletic teams is evidence of this energy. Whether it was at the mixer, at play practice, in the classroom, or in the hall, the students gave all of their time and energy, knowing that the resulting accomplishments would be worth their labor. The year has ended. For many, the school year was filled with accomplishments. These people can be proud of a job well done. For those who did not accomplish what they could have, there is always next year.

“VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE.”

What memories will the seniors have now that high school is behind them? The excitement of the football games, the friendships made and retained, the hilarity of club skits and announcements? Yes, these are the moments of high school that should never be forgotten.

CLUBS/ORGANIZATIONS

STRIKING NEW NOTES

Beginning anew well described the 1976-'77 David Lipscomb Chorus. A new accompanist, new music, and new outfits gave the Chorus a distinctly different face. However, the most important element in the fresh appearance of the Chorus was a new director, Sylvia Cox. Under the direction of Miss Cox, the singers used religious music extensively.

At performances selections ranging from familiar hymns to soul-tinted gospels could be heard. Striking the right notes was the new accompanist, Lynda Davenport. Lovely new dresses added a touch of class to all choral performances. The new members of the Chorus were officially initiated with a shambattle at Indian Springs in Percy Warner Park. This gathering marked the beginning of a closeness which was felt throughout the year. Few other groups in high school have the chance to attain the intimacy that the David Lipscomb Chorus enjoyed.

Look! Climbing the walls of the publications office! It must be PONY EXPRESS editor Debbie Sisk around deadline time. With the sometimes frantic Miss Sisk leading the way, the 1976-'77 paper continued the tradition of fine newspaper journalism at Lipscomb. The EXPRESS published reviews of the latest albums and movies. A series of articles about Mr. David Lipscomb and the early days of our school was published. Debbie's crew of reporters, photographers, and artists helped lighten the workload. Phil Reagan served as advisor to the editor; he gave Miss Sisk the extra boost needed to come through with an excellent paper. Debbie Sisk and her staff made it. The PONY EXPRESS rides on!

PRESERVING A YEAR

The goal of the 1977 MIZPAH staff was to produce a yearbook which the students would truly enjoy. Preparation for the production of the yearbook started last summer when staff members attended a workshop at UT — Knoxville. This seminar gave each person who attended experience in designing lay-outs, cropping pictures, and writing copy. Editor David Gulbenk assigned associate editors for the different sections of the yearbook. Some of the original features of the book are the color artwork cover, lettered end-sheets, and several pages of color photographs. A supplement will also be produced for school activities which could not be included in the yearbook. Dianne Goolsby served ably as advisor to the staff.

MAPPING IT OUT: STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was made up of the officers of each class, the editors of the school publications, and Miss Lipscomb and the Bachelor of Ugliness. It was the responsibility of these people to decide upon matters which concerned the welfare of the student body. Any student with an idea of his own could make it known to the Student Council by mentioning it to one of the members. The Council members tried to represent the feelings of the students. Perry Pratt, president of the Senior Class, presided over Council meetings, and Laura Flannery, secretary of the Senior Class, was the official secretary of the Council.

SPREADING THE WORD

The Homiletics Club of 1976-'77 used every opportunity to fulfill its purpose for existence. Under the leadership of Mr. Crouch and Mr. Lawing, the young men gained valuable experience in all phases of worship. Serving as co-ordinator for the club, Joey Harwell proved himself well suited for the task. Included in the young men's responsibilities were all worship services at chorus performances, participation in chapel, and occasionally services for various congregations upon request. A large playboard allowed Mr. Crouch and Mr. Lawing to keep track of each member's participation. The purpose of the Homiletics Club is to train future leaders of the church.

HELPING OTHERS IS THE KEY

The Civitan/Civinette Club demonstrated repeatedly that it was a service club. David McDonough and Tammy Neal served as presidents of the group. Amy Owens was the club's secretary. Members of the club worked diligently on many projects. Parties periodically provided a respite from regular activities. Some Civitan/Civinette projects were: monthly singings at homes for the elderly, a clothes drive, parties for Central State patients, a food drive, raising money for the National Association of Retarded Children, and a benefit banquet. A monthly award for the most active club member was a new idea for creating interest in this club with a spirit of caring.

FIRING IT UP!

The Jr. High Pep Club. LEFT TO RIGHT: Lydia Demonbreun, Tina Arnold, Sara Flye, Terri Lampley, Stephanie Crowell, Lisa Waller, Lynn James, Lynn Lawson, Kathy Kimbro, Lisa Condra, Susan Norris, Melanie Jennings, Lee Ann Hearne, Mary Alice Braser, Karen Walker, Donna Jones, Teresa Woodroof, Sally Dunn, Vivian Caldwell, Angela Thomas, Tracey Tignor, Lori Tuggle, Amy Adler, Kim Smith, Lisa Gilbert, Mrs. Osborne; sponsor, Beth Cooper, Michelle Smith.

Crepe paper, locker decorations, signs throughout the halls and in the gym, people with paint-stained hands, Booster Buddies, paying dues, and going to meetings . . . all of these events are a direct result of the efforts of the Pep Club. The main problem for President Matt Dozier, Vice-President Jimmy Hayes, and Secretary Susan Adkins was to keep the members active. The few faithful could often be seen staying after school to decorate for a big game or organize Booster Buddies. One of the club's original ideas this year was a fund raising drive to collect money for a Mustang mascot costume. Members sold buttons, stickers, and posters in aid of this project. In some areas the club may have been lacking, but thanks to the work of the active members it did a good job in creating interest in Lipscomb athletic contests.

MOVING ON

If a person came to an important home basketball game, he would have seen a unique halftime show. He would have seen a performance by a group of young ladies who are known as the Marching Mustangs. Under the direction of Sharon Tracey, the Marching Mustangs formed precision patterns to the rhythm of drum beats. Their act could also be seen at college and junior high games. However, the girls paid a price for their recognition. Practices were held in the morning before school started. The drills were led by Floor Commander Jeanine Jolly and Rank Leaders Terri Sweeney, Kitty Hicks, and Tammy Pigg. Melinda Davis served as secretary.

SCIENCE CLUB

Seeking greater knowledge about man and his world, the David Lipscomb Science Club was very active this year in taking excursions to further develop the minds of its members. The club journeyed to Huntsville and Oak Ridge to learn more about atomic energy, space, and astronomy. WSM-TV was the host for the group as they appeared on the "Noon" show to learn more about communications. The Vanderbilt Computer Center and the Cumberland Museum of Science were two more stops on the Science Club's trail. Other trips planned included journeys to the airport control tower and South Central Bell. This club is a very active one which gives its members an excellent opportunity to learn more about the world around them.

The Future Teachers of America Club, headed by sponsor Leslie Wyatt, was on the move at DLHS with projects and good deeds. The club busied itself with fixing bulletin boards for teachers, doing errands, sending gifts to teachers at Christmas, and going to homes for the elderly. A major project was constructing bread dough baskets filled with fruit for retiring teachers. Some of the F.T.A. members attended a convention in April for the Tennessee Future Teachers Club. Anna Weatherspoon served as president. Lynda Davenport was vice-president, and Kim Edwards was secretary. The F.T.A. Club was truly a teacher's best friend.

CHESS CLUB

Bobby Fischer, Boris Spassky, move over. The Lipscomb Chess Club is here. This club, composed mostly of underclassmen, enjoyed its most successful year ever. More and more students are finding the action at the chess boards exciting and challenging. Todd Kinnane was one of the club's top competitors. He advanced all the way to this year's regional tournament. However, he was forced to concede the match because he could not be at his match at the appointed time. Things are looking up for the Chess Club. With the enthusiasm shown by its members, the club will surely continue to offer the challenge of mental exertion which, today, is so often overlooked.

BOOKING IT

When a person walks into the Lipscomb High School Library, he is immediately impressed with the condition of the books, shelves, and desks. There are no books on the floor, no papers strewn on a desk, and no files out of place. This neat appearance was due in part to the efforts of the Library Club. The students took care of filing books, stamping cards, and collecting fines for overdue books. Many students found enjoyment in participating in a club which provides much service to the student body.

HONORING

The National Honor Society was reinstituted at Lipscomb this year by Mr. Jon Boswell. In order to qualify for membership, students must have at least a B average. Non-academic factors such as leadership, extra-curricular activities, and character were taken into consideration when judging prospective members. A luncheon was held at the college cafeteria. At this meeting, officers were elected and the club's future was discussed. Joey Harwell was elected president, and Lynda Davenport was elected secretary. A formal induction service introduced club members during an activity period.

CHAPEL

It is 10:00 o'clock and you have just finished a tough examination. The prospects are not good, for at 10:30 you have a Worldy Wise test. What happens in that thirty minute span? Every Lipscomb student knows that the short interlude between second and third period is practically the only chance during a hectic day to stop, relax, and worship God. It is chapel. Many students leave their worries about grades behind when they walk through the doors of Acuff Chapel. It is like a different world when all the students get quiet. Peace seems to reign. Then it is 10:30. Now students resume their schedules. Their short time for calm is over. That thirty minutes of reverence is an integral part of life at Lipscomb. That is the way it should stay.

ACTIVITIES GIVE STUDENTS TIME TO ENJOY

Taking a welcomed break from classes, the students enjoyed the special activities which took place during the year. Although the number of assemblies decreased from the previous years, the activities were very well done and high in quality. Everyone enjoyed Jack Lannom's presentation of the programs offered by MIND Inc. In an example of karate expertise, Lannom shattered a 600 pound bulk of ice with his elbow. He also divided a canteloupe placed on Jim Kay's chest with a sword. Kay was not injured. In another assembly, Ken Dodd gave a presentation designed to give students a greater appreciation of music. Club skits and announcements were always welcomed by the students. Members of the Homecoming Court and Queen Debbie Sisk were presented during an assembly after Chapel. Though these activities took place with less frequency, students still welcomed them as a respite from their daily schedules.

PEP RALLIES

It is the day of a big game with Brentwood Academy, Goodpasture, BGA, TPS, or some other school. One thing is certain. There will be a pep rally. Cheerleaders used the time after Chapel or before the end of the school day to get Lipscomb students excited and interested in the athletic contests. Some people chose to sleep through pep rallies; others sat motionless. However, the majority really got vocal in their support of the Mustangs. There is no doubt that this enthusiasm shown during rallies stirred the athletes of this school to better performances. The effort of those people involved with putting on the rallies was appreciated by all.

CLASS DAYS

In accordance with tradition, each of the high school classes decorated the school on a different holiday. At Christmastime the seniors decked the halls of Harding with snowmen, candy canes, toys, and wrapping paper. A movie, "Twas the Fight Before Christmas", was shown in the cafeteria during lunch periods. The juniors lit up the school with an extravagant display of hearts, a juke-box, and candy. Their Valentine celebration was a tremendous success. On their first Class Day, the sophomores made the horrors of Halloween reality by conjuring up ghosts and goblins. This was a memorable year of Class Days.

TALENT SHOW

Why were people packing Acuff Chapel on the weekend of the second week in November? They had come to witness the Lipscomb High School Talent Show. Providing the between-the-act jokes, Mike Sullivan, physics teacher at DLHS, served as master of ceremonies. The thirteen acts which were presented certainly provided varied entertainment for the audience. Freshmen Jan Gomer and Melanie Jennings sang songs made famous by Barbra Streisand. Seventh grader Tammy Edwards performed a classical piece on the piano. Kevin Stinson, Martha Nance, Debbie Hanvey, Amy Kinser, and Jim Kay sang the recent hit "Fernando". Providing background music for this group were Bernie Ellis, Phil Stone, and Ben Fitzpatrick. Annette Montgomery sang a softer tune entitled "Help Me". A group composed of Larry Brown, Laura Flannery, Lynda Davenport, and Jack Flannery represented some of the top talent from the Senior Class. The sophomore rock group China Grove wound the show up with a bang. The talents of all the classes made this Talent Show one of the finest ever.

SENIOR PLAY

"THE MATCHMAKER"

Amidst worrying about the bursting seams of costumes, staying up until three and four o'clock to work on the set, hemming curtains an hour before showtime, and finding enough hair spray to go around, the Senior Class successfully presented Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker". With Phil Reagan serving as director, the seniors gave three successful performances on December 10, 11, and 14. The cast of the play was as follows:

Larry Brown	Horace Vandergelder
Beth Burton	Dolly
Laura Flannery	Mrs. Molloy
Matt Dozier	Cornelius
Amy Owens	Ermengarde
David McDonough	Ambrose
Laurie Dotson	Minnie
David Tidwell	cabman
Greg Dozier	Malachi Stack
Vic Batson	Joe Scanlon
Wess Head	Rudolf
Nancy Slatton	Gertrude
Tammy Neal	Cook
Brooks Ellis	August
Randy Davidson	Barnaby Tucker
Beth Johnston	Mrs. Van Huysen

STUDENTS FIND EMPLOYMENT IN MANY FIELDS

This past year the cost of living continued its steady increase. DLHS students felt the grip of this inflation whenever they reached for money for the game, clothes, cars, etc., and none was to be found. Many students found a simple solution to this problem. If a person had taken an afternoon tour of the Green Hills Shopping Center, he would have seen several Lipscomb students working hard for those extra dollars. At McDonald's he could have placed an order with Heather Potter, Annette Montgomery, or Rita Burgess. He could have purchased an aloe from Jay Williams in The Flower Mart or a dress from Julie Lambert, Missy Harris, or Lydia Dennis in Castner's. George Griffin would have gladly filled your gas tank at his father's Exxon station. Vic Batson and Sondra Tice would have taught you to swim at the Southwest Y. Laura Burch would have served you lunch at the DLC Dining Center. So, these students knew how to beat high costs. Those few hours given to work gave enormous monetary benefits to the industrious people at DLHS.

Lipscomb's Teen Board Representatives: Dana Baugh, Kim Williams, Kim Jones, and Melanie Turner.

FASHIONS

This year the fashion world at Lipscomb exploded. After a few years of stagnation, everyone was yearning for a few creative changes. Boots quickly gained great popularity. Considering the unusually frigid temperatures during much of the year, this style made a timely appearance on the scene. The announcement that gauchos could now be worn to school sent girls scurrying to the stores. Gauchos were a tremendous success among the female population, but their male counterparts found them less than appealing. On a cold January day, the entire female portion of the student body listened in silence as Mr. Ford announced that pants would be tolerated during the sub-freezing temperatures. Almost all of the latest styles could now be incorporated into the women's wardrobes. Derby hats, knickers, and the peasant look were seen all over the campus. Who knows what next year will bring?

BASKETBALL BOYS RIDE INTO TOURNAMENTS WITH NIL CROWN

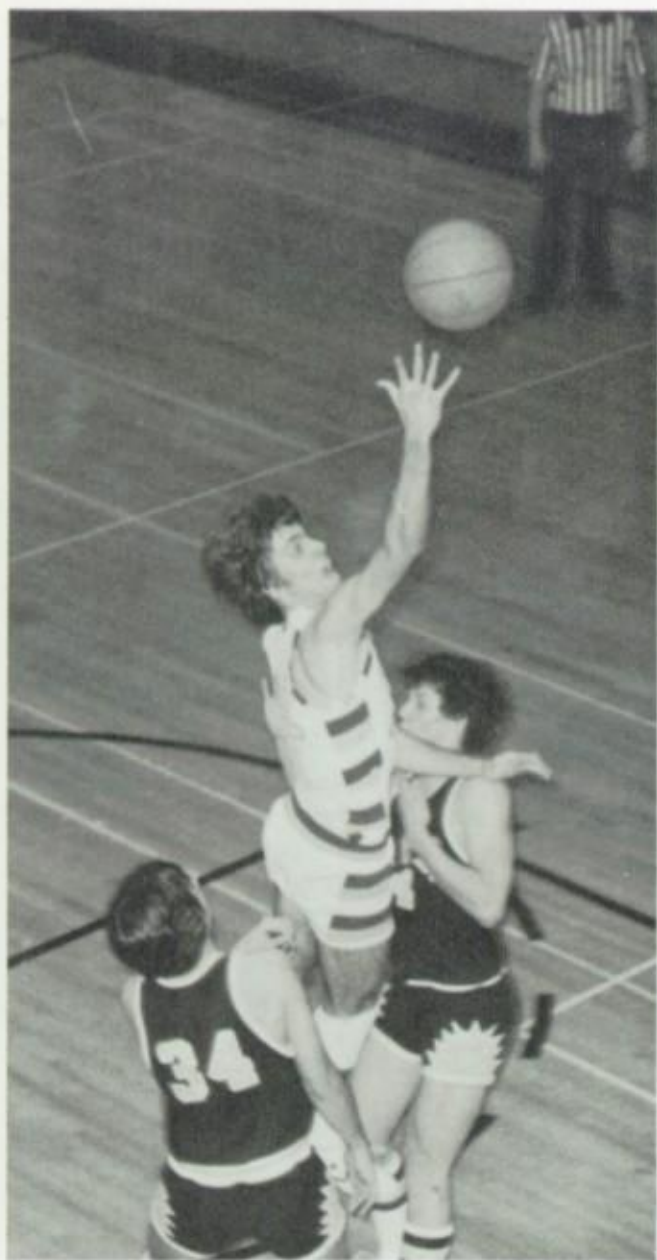

The Lipscomb Basketball Mustangs, under the direction of veteran mentor Ken Head and Junior Varsity Coach Eddie Eakes, set their sights on making an appearance in the State Tournament. In quest of this goal, the team opened with a solid victory over Hillsboro (Williamson Co.). After thrashing Nashville Christian, the Mustangs absorbed their first two defeats of the young season when they fell to Bellevue and DuPont. The Mustangs rode a win over Page into the Christmas Christian Schools Tournament. The team reached the finals where they were defeated by Harding of Memphis. Lipscomb rebounded from a loss to Mt. Pleasant with a triple overtime win over USN. The team's district record remained unblemished following victories over Goodpasture, TPS, Nashville Christian, and Fairview. As they headed into the tournaments, the only blemish was a loss to Goodpasture. Mark Smith was selected to the All-NIL team for his play. Captains David Gulbenk and Phil Connelly consistently scored well throughout the season. Ricky Wauford, Tim Hillin, John McMeen, Randy Butler, Tom Boyd, and Kelly Daniel contributed heavily to the team's effort. Andy Lakoff and Kelly Daniel were captains of the Junior Varsity team.

LIPSCOMB MUSTANGS TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT NIL TITLE TO CAP BUCK DOZIER'S CAREER

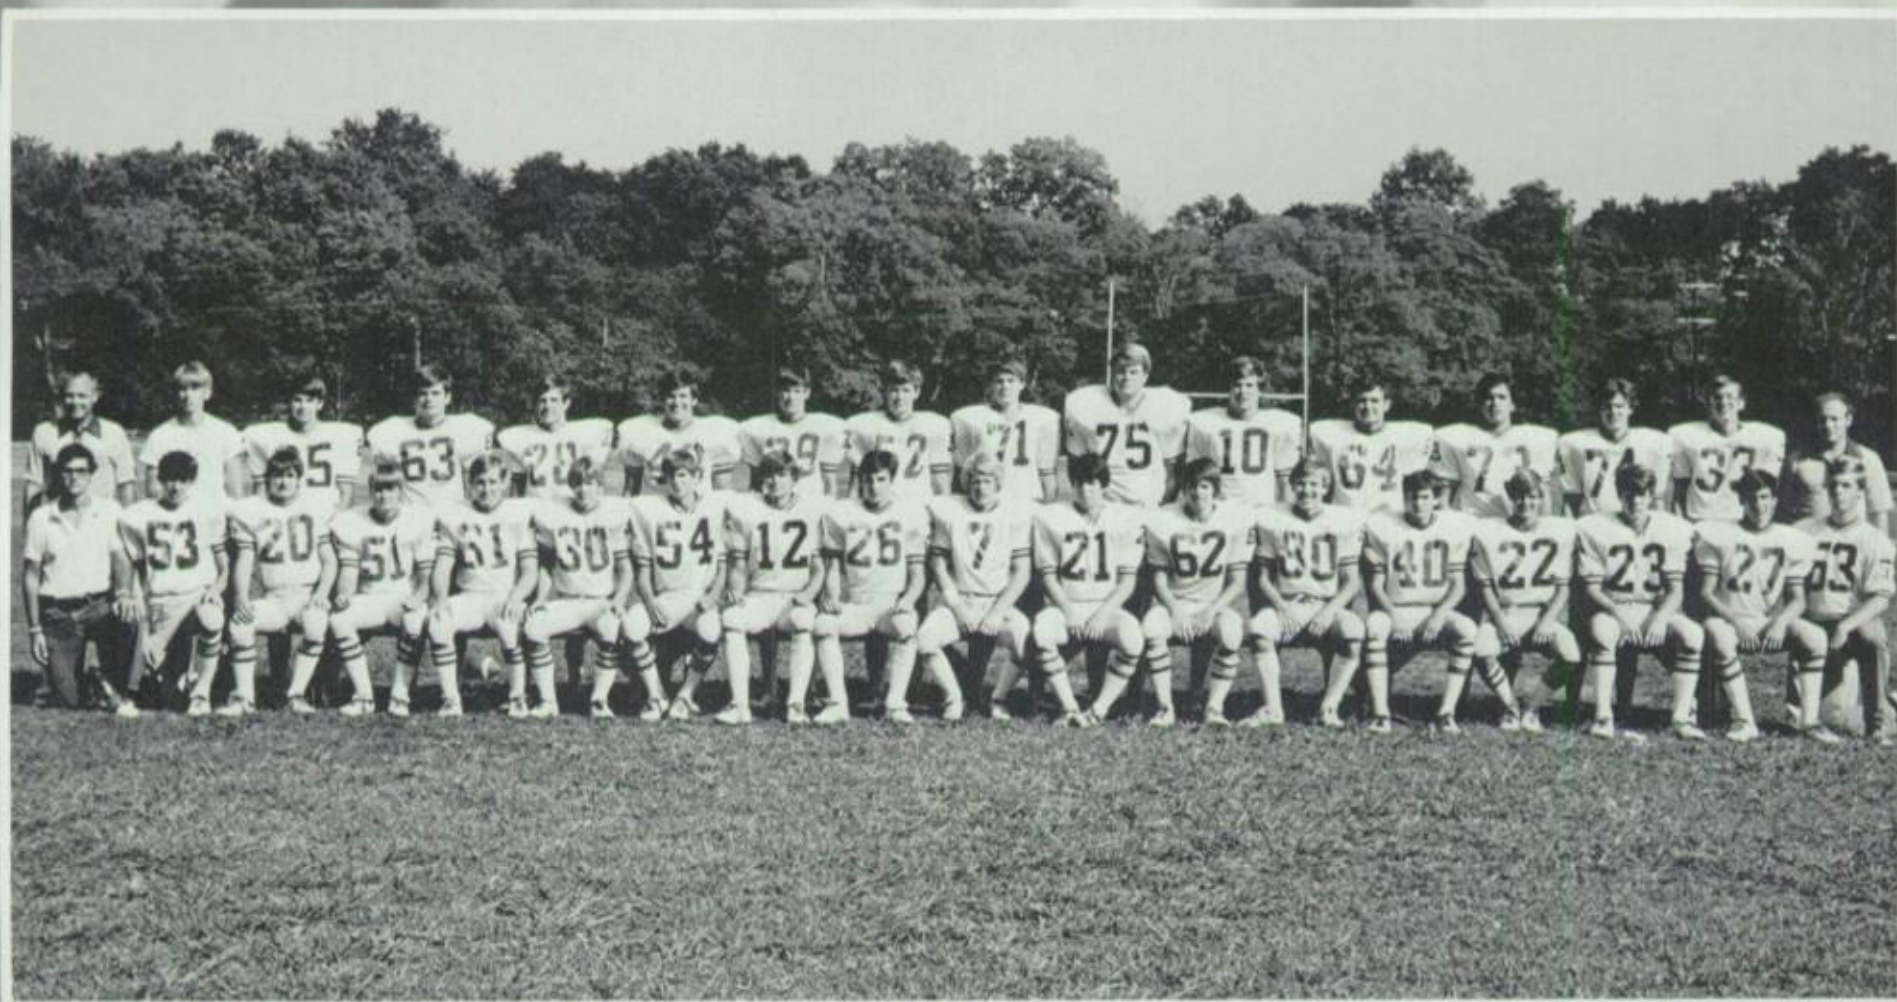

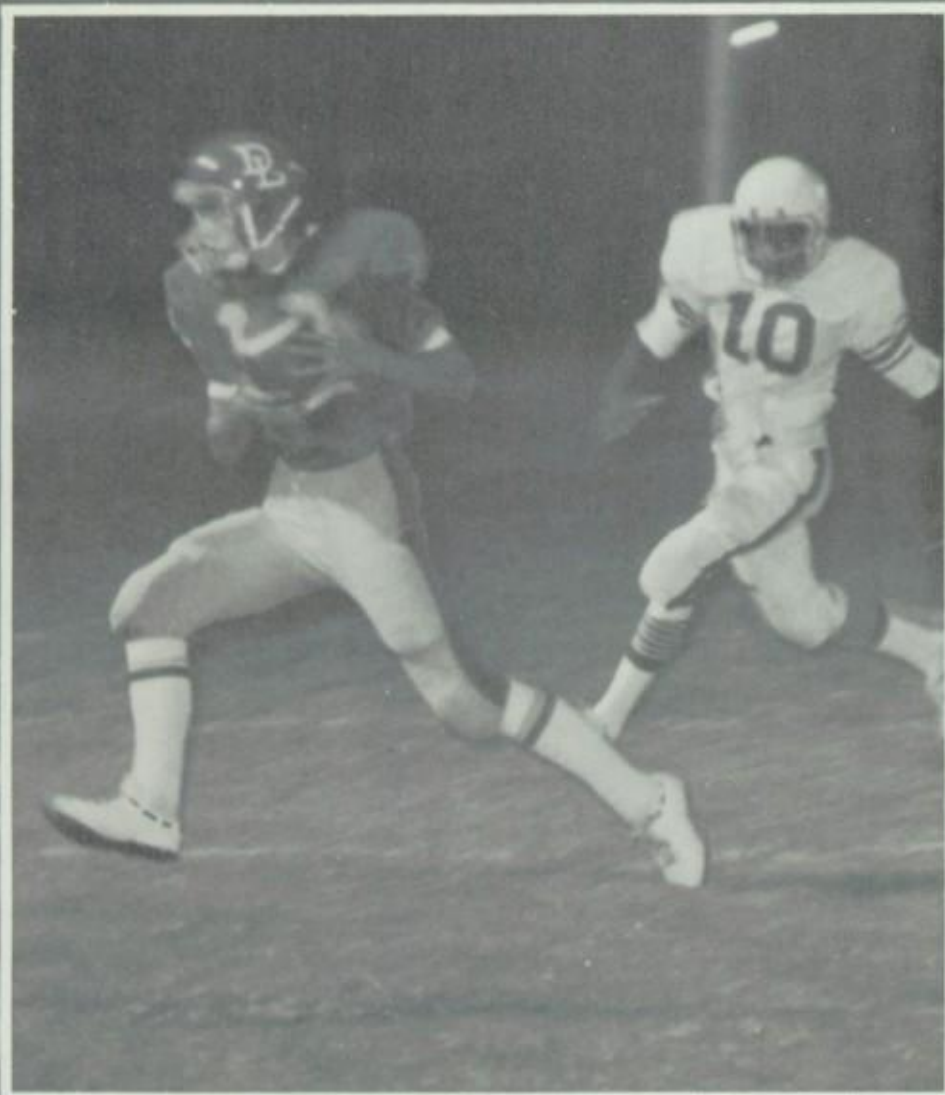

For the third consecutive year, the local papers chose Lipscomb to win the NIL Class A title. The team responded by grabbing a share of the crown with Goodpasture and Hume-Fogg. The Mustangs compiled an 8-3 record on their way to another fine year. This past season marked an end to an era of Lipscomb football. Buck Dozier, the man who guided the program from its early days to the fine organization it is today, resigned as head coach. Dozier retired with a host of championships and bowl games to his credit. The past three teams have produced bowl appearances as well as NIL championships. This year's club had many fine performers in its ranks. Quarterback Kevin Stinson, Greg Harper, Ricky Elrod, and Jay Williams were all named to the All-Class A team. Williams, who signed a scholarship with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, was named the Player-of-the-Year. Honorable mention went to Keith Mabry, David Netterville, Perry Pratt, John Sidwell, Bill Knight, Jerry Hays, and Jim Kay. The Mustangs opened defense of their title with a 13-0 victory over Castle Heights. Greg Harper scored both touchdowns. The boys got their act together in the next game as they smothered hapless Randolph Academy 61-0. Kevin Stinson galloped for five touchdowns in that game. Lipscomb could have used some of those 61 points the next week as they fell to Goodpasture 14-6. Lipscomb erased the state ranking of Mt. Pleasant the next week with a 28-14 victory. TD passes to Ricky Elrod and John Sidwell and runs by Jim Kay and Greg Harper accounted for the scoring. Lipscomb ran into a brick wall named Centerville. The AA team handed the Mustangs a 22-8 defeat. An opening play fumble put the team off balance for the remainder of the game. Touchdowns by Greg Harper, Kevin Stinson, and Ricky Elrod paced the boys to a victory over favored Hume-Fogg 20-12. In their next outing, the Mustangs trounced TPS 41-0. Lyn Foster, Elrod, and Stinson each had a six-pointer. Cohn was the next victim for the rolling Mustangs. The Black Knights wound up on the short end of a 27-8 tally. McEwen gave the team its third loss of the year by a 24-19 count. In the final regular season game, the boys obliterated Joelton 45-0. Seven players scored. A trip to the Watertown Lions' Bowl ended the season on a successful note. The Mustangs defeated Celina 42-20. It was indeed a fine year for football at David Lipscomb High School.

GIRLS REACH SUB-STATE

Lipscomb basketball followers had never seen a Lady Mustang team that started the season as successfully as the 1977 team. Thanks to the coaching of Frank Bennett and Ernie Smith, the girls rolled over District 11 competition on their way to being ranked in the Top Ten in the State. DLHS opened the season with victories over Hillsboro (Williamson), Nashville Hillsboro, Nashville Christian, and Bellevue. DuPont handed the girls their first loss in a game that went down to the buzzer. Following a win over Page, Lipscomb won the Christian Schools Tournament for the second consecutive year. Amy Kinser and Stephanie Howard were placed on the All-Tournament team. Victories over Mt. Pleasant and USN were a prelude to the girls' entrance into the Shoney's Middle Tennessee Invitational Tournament. The team was turned back by Gallatin 54-51. The new year saw Lipscomb streak by Goodpasture, TPS, Nashville Christian, Brentwood Academy, and Fairview. Games with Hampshire, Harpeth Hall, St. Cecilia, and East Robertson closed the very successful year. Julie Lambert was captain, and Stephanie Howard and Kay Church served as co-captains.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

Having a winning season is never easy. Through hard work and determination, the Lipscomb Junior High Mustangs continued their winning ways with a 4-3 record this past season. Lipscomb opened the season against Knox-Doss and fell 16-0. Costly mistakes and fumbles plagued the Junior Mustangs throughout the game. Behind the leadership of Captain Kenny Murphy, Lipscomb squeezed by Goodpasture 12-8. Murphy and Ricky Slaughter scored in that contest. Next, Northside handed the team a 20-8 defeat. This defeat was followed by two convincing wins: 18-0 over Ashland City and 27-0 over Franklin Road Academy. The final loss of the year was a 14-12 contest at the hands of Ezell-Harding. A resounding 35-0 victory over Joelton closed a very successful year for the Junior Mustangs.

JR. HIGH BOYS BASKETBALL

Under the direction of Coach Presley Ramsey, the Junior High Boys' Basketball team worked relentlessly to improve their basketball skills. The players set their sights on a winning season. The Junior Mustangs took two victories from Ezell-Harding and Nashville Christian. Lipscomb also defeated Goodpasture and Franklin Road Academy. Two of the tougher area teams, Bellevue and MBA, handed the boys two defeats. These defeats were a part of a complete basketball education. Randy Rogers, Brian Clements, and Mike Gaw were three top players on the squad. Rogers and Clements served as captains.

JUNIOR HIGH FILLIES

This year's Junior High Girls' Basketball team continued the fine line of teams at Lipscomb. This team was coached by Dianne Goolsby and Lori Newman. The season started on a victorious note with a 52-20 victory over Franklin Road Academy. This victory was followed by defeats to Goodpasture, Page, and Knox Doss. A win over Nashville Christian broke the losing streak. The victories kept piling-up as the girls defeated McMurray, Goodpasture, and Ezell-Harding. Bellevue then handed the team a 50-32 defeat. Wins over Nashville Christian and Ezell-Harding led up to the Apollo game which ended the season. Karen Knight and Rebecca Beech served as captains. Linda Lee Youree, Shelley McWright, Lori McCord, and Mary Whitaker also provided excellent leadership for the younger players.

BOYS' CROSS COUNTRY

Competing for only their second year in the NIL, the Boys' Cross Country team had a very successful year. The runners won the NIL AA championship, the David Lipscomb College Invitational, and the Nashville Private Schools' Invitational. Lipscomb also placed fifth in the NIL and TSSAA Regional meets. Jim Busby and Alan Adams served as captains for the squad. Busby, the MVP and number one runner, set the school record for the three-mile course with a 15.49 clocking. Busby and Bruce Todd made the AA first team and the NIL second team. Keith Nash and Jack Burton, promising junior high runners, were named to the AA second team.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

In their third year of competition, the Lipscomb Girls' Cross Country team compiled a 9-3 seasonal record. Four returnees from the 1976 squad provided the leadership which is essential for a successful team effort. The cinderladies finished ninth out of a field of nineteen teams in the Bradshaw Invitational. In the NIL Invitational the team finished eighth out of eighteen schools. Captain Vicki Chadwick made the Class AA first team and the All-NIL second team. Eighth grader Becky Flowers set the school record with a 9 minute and 22 second clocking over the 1.5 mile course. Flowers also made the first teams of Class AA and the NIL. Congratulations to the team for their hard work and success!

WRESTLING

In sanctioned competition for the first year, the DLHS wrestling team established themselves as the team to beat for the NIL Class A title. Led by Captain Tim Terry, who went through much of the season undefeated, and Co-captain David Netterville, the team opened the season with wins in the Memphis Triangular. At home, Lipscomb was victorious over Nashville Christian, TSB, East, Cohn, and Stratford. These victories paved the way to a successful season. Gary Hall, Bobby Newsom, Alan Bates, Tim Terry, Greg Preston, and Jay Williams compiled high victory counts to lead the team. A new aspect to the wrestling program this year was the addition of ten match girls. Picked by Coaches Bob Goff and Eddie Bates, these girls helped Goff and Bates by keeping the score and time.

RIFLERY

Led by Captain Billy Anderson and Co-Captain Joe Howington, the 1977 Rifle Team competed against seven other teams in the Nashville Youth Incorporated Rifle League. The team participated in five matches and the Southeast Regional Tournament. A second and third place finish were highlights of the season. 'Ten bulls' eyes compose each target. One target is used for each of the four positions — prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. Starters for the team were Anderson, Howington, John Losey, John Vlahakis, Alan Wiseman, Ted Sanders, and Bill Hooper. The shooters were coached by Dr. James Costello.

PARTICIPATION IN ALL FIELDS OF ACTIVITIES SHOWS FINAL YEAR STUDENTS' DESIRE FOR MEANINGFUL ACHIEVEMENT

The Seniors began their final year no differently from the previous five years of high school. However, choosing chapel seats and ordering caps and gowns for graduation made the Seniors realize that this year would be a new experience. The members of the Class of '77 took part in many activities. The Senior Play and Senior Day came just a day apart. On Senior Day each hall was decorated in accordance with a different theme. Santa Claus made a special visit to the cafeteria for picture sessions. The highlight of the day was the showing of the movie "Twas the Fight Before Christmas". Although the Christmas holidays provided some rest for the Seniors, they soon had to plan for Homecoming. Comparing ACT scores, ordering graduation invitations, and eating at the college once every six weeks were also part of the busy year. The last half of the year was filled with many memorable experiences. The class trip to Fall Creek Falls State Park and the Junior-Senior banquet capped the final weeks of school. The class was honored at a brunch and then graduated during ceremonies in the newly renovated Alumni Auditorium. For many students graduation was a joyous and long-awaited day. For others it was a sad moment. For the 107 seniors it was all over.

JUNIORS

Personal involvement was the attitude stressed throughout the Junior Class by President Sky Forrister and Secretary Janice Quinn. This approach was found to be very successful as the juniors staged many entertaining and worthwhile activities. The girls of the Class of '78 started the year off in fine style by sweeping the powder-puff title for the second straight year. In November, the juniors had a pizza and movie party in the high school cafeteria and McFarland Hall. The movie was rented with money collected from members of the class. Enjoyed by all who attended was the Teacher Appreciation Dinner given by the class in December. On Valentine's Day, the juniors gave students memories of a job well done. As the year came to a close, most juniors agreed that the year was worthwhile. They are now ready to accept the challenge of leading the school as seniors.

SOPHOMORES

Under the direction of President Kelly Daniel and Secretary Laurie Chadwell, the sophomores made their first year in high school a good one. On Halloween, the sophs presented a Sophomore Day that included such exhibits as Frankenstein in a casket, a witch with a mysterious brew, guillotines at the water fountains, and a class movie in the lunchroom. The sophomores were dismissed from school to see A SEPARATE PEACE. The movie was very popular among the students. The sophomores held a Christmas party in December. The first year in high school was ended with a class trip to the Cedars of Lebanon. Being a sophomore was listening to the adventures of Miss Yarbrough, laughing at Mr. Sullivan's jokes, and enjoying Coach Goff's descriptions of the lunchroom food. Being a sophomore also meant it was time to assume responsibilities in order to make the final two years of high school successful.

FRESHMEN

Trying to get an entire class at Lipscomb to agree on one subject is difficult. When the subject to be agreed upon is the past school year, the task is impossible. When asked what the ninth grade was like, the ninth graders gave two answers. It was a year of memories, and it was a year of uncertainty. Among the things mentioned by the freshmen as being memorable were such experiences as going to senior high chapel, voting for varsity cheerleaders, attending junior and senior high pep rallies, wishing for a Freshman Day, meeting Mrs. Doran, and seeing LOST HORIZON. In what way was it a year of uncertainty? Well, the freshmen who were polled could never decide whether they were at the head of the junior high or at the bottom of the senior high. They felt as if they were a part of both, yet not really belonging to either. Some said it was like being at the second highest point of a very fast roller coaster. It is all a part of growing up in the ninth grade at Lipscomb.

Two years ago you might not have realized what Brooks Ellis is doing in the picture at right. However, since the advent of the CB craze, everyone knows that Brooks is talking on his Citizen's Band radio. The CB craze has already seized the students at Lipscomb. Will the CB's follow the paths of clackers and yo-yos and fade into oblivion? Only time will tell, but, from all indications, CB's are here to stay.

SEVENTH GRADE

The jump from elementary school to junior high school is the hardest transition for students to adjust to. Almost every phase of a seventh grader's school life is new to him. The students had to get used to having several teachers instead of just one. Lawrence Kimbrough and Carole Anne Kay were elected class president and secretary by their classmates. The final activity of the year was an enjoyable class trip to Henry Horton State Park. It was a good beginning.

I can't say that I enjoyed producing this book. The original excitement that I felt when named editor was erased by the seemingly endless stream of work that took up most of my time. I am relieved that it is all over. I would like to thank the MIZPAH staff for making this book possible. For enlarging many of the color prints in the opening, I thank the people of Service Publishing. Norris Collins and Joyce Cauffman deserve special mention for their fine work with the senior portraits. My thanks to Harold McGehee of American Yearbook Company for showing the way through mazes of problems. In times of despair, my advisor, Dianne Goolsby, encouraged me to keep at it. Now that this yearbook is out, some students may complain about a dull layout or bad copy. That is fine. But, one thing that no one can doubt is that all people involved with this book worked hard in the hope of making the 1977 MIZPAH a book that all students could be proud of.

And Laban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name of it called Galeed; And Mizpah; for he said, the Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another.
